Fearful Breathing

Written in memory of the woman whose name I'll never know and whose face I'll never forget.

Dedicated to: Rwanda, and all the people whom I love there.

Thanks to: Professor Charles Larson, for going on this journey with me, even though I've never attempted anything like this before. Thanks also to every person who believed in me when I didn't believe in myself: Mom and dad; Ryan; and all my amazing friends at American University and back home who never stopped encouraging me.
